La Antigua Lavandera acquires a new production plant in Barcelona

La Antigua Lavandera, a PHI Industrial Acquisitions portfolio company and one of Spain's leading bleach and liquid cleaning product manufacturers, located in Alcalá de Guadaira (Sevilla), has acquired a new plant located in St. Adriá del Besós (Barcelona) from the German multinational group, Dalli, specialized in liquid cleaning products. The plant belonged to Henkel until 2010, when Dalli Werke GmbH & Co. acquired it.

With this acquisition, La Antigua Lavandera incorporates 41 specialized employees from Dalli, manufacturing technologies, fully integrated and automated production processes, an R&D department which guarantees the maximum quality of products, and the development of a wider range of products and formats (degreasing, window-cleaning fluid, triggers, among others). With this acquisition, La Antigua Lavandera becomes one of the leaders in manufacturing liquid products for cleaning and homecare in Southern Europe, with enough capacity to exceed an annual production of three hundreds thousands tons.

PHI Industrial Acquisitions, an investment fund specialized in operational turnaround is considering additional acquisitions that can provide synergies to La Antigua Lavandera's growth and help it become a European reference in the cleaning and homecare category.
